Virtual meeting

Meeting called by: Josué Dávalos

Type of meeting: Sprint 01

Attendees: Josué Dávalos, Robert Moreno, Juan Antonio Plaza

Minutes

Agenda item: 01

Presenter: Josué Dávalos

Discussion:

User stories

Conclusions:

The user stories we have are fine, but we need to focus on more complex things. Try to make stories that indicate well how you will integrate with date and not collide with these services that you already offer. Something that as a date trade would not contribute much because it already exists. But maybe it could help you to know usability metrics. Clicks, number of visits per day, etc.

Agenda item: 02

Presenter: Robert Moreno

Discussion:

Prototype presentation

Conclusions:

The prototype or application that we develop is a bit badly focused, because we try to make an mvp encompassing many things, instead of focusing on something even though it is smaller, it is more well thought out, developed and extensible. For example, thinking that there is a delivery method in the models does not necessarily indicate that there will be home delivery. But even if it is "Come to pick up the premises" it is still a delivery method, and it should be modeled like that.
